ABOUT

As an aspiring web developer, I believe that I am now prepared to take advantage of any opportunity that may present itself to advance in my career-building process. Since I began my journey to learn how to code, I've taken ownership of my professional development, and I am constantly learning to get better and reach a higher degree of proficiency. I'm keen to learn and advance my knowledge and abilities. Currently, I can confidently say that I understand the fundamentals of basic coding.
